NOTES FROM THE ELECTION.

There never was a scrub horse that could outrun a thoroughbred, and the latter are evidently growing in popularity. Billet stock took a big leap forward yesterday, and distanced the field.

Some weeks ago a Friends Creek correspondent of the Decatur Times said that Jesse Hanks and Wm. Clifton were without neighbors and influence, but the result of the election in that township tells a different story. The ticket which they were instrumental in putting in the field was elected by very large majorities, beating the granger ticket badly. That don't look as though they were without neighbors.

In Wheatland the "Farmers and Laborers" got scooped, that eminent "laborer" Bill Martin being left far behind. Strange was a prejudice exists against the laboring classes.

In Mt. Zion township the Independent-Reform ticket, headed by Stephen Mahannah, was beaten clean out of sight. "Oh, where, tell me where, has the bully granger gone?"

In Taylorville the Republicans elect their candidates for supervisor, clerk and assessor.

There is now very general apprehension in Philadelphia that exhibitors will not have their goods, there and in position by the time fixed for the opening of the centennial. The buildings and grounds will be completed and in condition, but up to this time goods have come forward very slowly. The foreign nations are doing even better than our own people, and the commissioners have felt compelled to issue an address to American exhibitors, asking them to hurry forward their articles.

Later in April it is feared transportation facilities will be so over taxed as to create great delay in the shipment of the goods.

The Minneapolis Evening Mail sets up a row of Democratic tombstones as follows:

Here lies George H. Pendleton, died of Kentucky railroad claims. Peace to his ashes.

Here lies Thomas Hendricks, died of too much Indianapolis water works. We shall wait for him on the other shore.

Here lies Samuel J. Tilden, he died of a railroad dyed out west, he thought his tracks were all covered up, may the Lord have mercy on his soul.

Strike up the dirge, move on the cortege—there's more to follow.

The Dresden News declares that the Prussian government spends too much money on the army and not enough on instruction. The Saxon Journal then says: "We thank God that we are not fifteen thousand children who learn absolutely nothing, because no masters, not even bad ones, are provided for them. About one hundred and fifty thousand pupils are confined to women, for the most part ignorant, and to boys, and about two hundred thousand more are instructed by masters of the highest quality." In a large number of the Prussian schools it has been found necessary to reduce the studies to half a day, on account of the want of tutors and the situation of these institutions becomes worse daily.

A LIVELY scene occurred in St. Paul's Church in Lisbon, the other day. Father Hughes, an English Jesuit, has for some time past been attracting attention there by the vehemence of his language and his attacks on the vices of the times. But the other day he went a little too far, and spoke in an unbecomingly language of the family and of the women. Angry remonstrances were made by some of the congregation, and another Jesuit, to quiet the tumult, drew out a cudgel and struck one of the remonstrants. Upon this the whole congregation rose and drove Father Hughes and all the other Jesuits out of the Church. The Prior of the Church now refuses to allow the Jesuits to preach there, and in this refusal he is sustained by the Portuguese government.

The indictment of Jasper D. Ward for complicity in the Chicago whisky frauds will be heard of with sincere regret. Though there have been frequent rumors of his guilty connection with the Whiskey Ring ever since the first exposure was made, they were generally regarded as merely the suggestions of his official position and not entitled to a serious credit. Mr. Ward has occupied a prominent political position in this community for many years past. First in the State Senate, then a member of Congress, and afterwards District Attorney, there has been no time for years when he was not conspicuously before the people. We have no disposition to screen Mr. Ward if he has been engaged in connection with Behm and the other whiskey-thieves in defrauding the Government; but until he has been convicted and convicted, he is entitled to the forbearance which his earnest protest and emphatic denial have secured for him.—Chicago Tribune

CONTRACTION.

A Washington dispatch says that over five million dollars ($5,304,000) of greenbacks were deposited in the Treasury during the month of March by National banks desiring to withdraw their currency and realize upon their bonds. These greenbacks will be paid out in redemption of the bank notes as they come in. The immediate effect is a contraction of greenbacks, the ultimate effect, a contraction of the national bank notes. It is stated to be the largest contraction which has ever occurred during one month, under the banking law of June 1874, and it is certainly of serious magnitude, being at the rate of sixty millions a year.

The law was considered, when past, to be in the interest of expansion rather than contraction. What was very confidently claimed for it, however, was that it gave the currency a self-regulating power, by virtue of which it would be expanded when its volume was less than the business of the country demanded, and contracted when its volume was in excess of the wants of trade. That claim seems to have a good deal of truth in it. Under the law, the currency of the country is now adjusting itself to the diminished volume of trade, by contraction, but it is free to expand again, should the business of the country hereinafter demand it.

HUSBAND AND WIFE DIE ALMOST SIMULTANEOUSLY.

Georgetown, Ky. Times
On Saturday night last, at 12 o'clock, Mr. Nathaniel Perkins, aged 71 years, died at the residence of his son-in-law, at Newton, and on Sunday morning, his wife, Ann Perkins, aged 72, died. The aged couple were recently from Fleming county, Mr. Perkins had been blind for a number of years. They suffered but a short time during their last sickness. In life they were long together, and in death they were separated by only a few hours. The funeral sermon of the aged couple was preached by Rev. J. G. Hunter, and they were laid in a common grave in Cherry Spring churchyard.

The people of Chicago and Cook county are to be congratulated upon the fact that Wilbur F. Storey, the editor and proprietor of the Chicago Times, is now serving them as foreman of the Grand Jury. Mr. Storey has been engaged for a good many years in telling through his newspaper just how Grand Juries should be managed, how courts should be run, and who should be punished, but it is the first time we believe that he has had an opportunity in this community to practice what he has preached. Mr. Storey has shown so distinguished a faculty as an editor for prying into people's private affairs that we think he can scarcely fail to show up something very startling in his capacity as foreman of the Grand Jury. He has also shown in his newspaper so wide an information concerning official corruption (and particularly in the County Board) that he will probably be able to lead the jury the way to some very important indictments. He may also be prompted to hold his own newspaper in check by promptly indicting himself if the Times shall continue, while he is on the jury, to defame private character, print obscene articles, and otherwise disgrace Chicago journalism. Here is Mr. Storey's grand opportunity. We have no doubt that he will have the hearty co-operation of the State's Attorney and the Court in the accumulated reforms of twenty years which he now for the first time can carry out. We wish him every success.—Chicago Tribune

According to a French statistician, taking the means of many accounts, a man of fifty years of age has slept 6,000 days, worked 6,500 days, walked 800 days, amused himself 4,000 days, was eating 1,500 days, was sick 500 days, etc. He has eaten 17,000 pounds of bread, 16,000 pounds of meat, 4,600 pounds of vegetables, eggs and fish, and drank 7,000 gallons of liquid, water, coffee, tea, beer, wine, etc., altogether. This would make a respectable lake of 300 square feet surface and three feet deep, on which small steamboats could navigate. And all this makes up the routine of an average man's life.

THE Indianapolis Herald perpetrated, last Saturday, perhaps the most successful "April Fool" joke ever indulged in, albeit its heartlessness was taken off our admiration at its ability. In about three columns is detailed what purported to be the finding of Charlie Ross, and closing with the statement that he was then at the Grand Hotel with his father. The account was so circumstantial and apparently truthful, that thousands of persons visited the hotel during the day to congratulate the senior Ross, and perchance catch a glimpse of the younger. So great was the interest and so wide spread the hope that the report might be true, that even the hanging of large placards inscribed "April Fool" near the entrance to the hotel did not prevent numbers of persons from applying to the clerk to know if the report was indeed true.

Misses Falconer & Hard have added to their millinery business, at No. 18 Merchant street, a dress making department, and will do all work in that line in the latest styles. They will also keep a full line of dress trimmings. Mrs. Hard is at present in the city purchasing spring goods. 30-41w

VIOLENT SNOW STORM AT BOSTON.

Fears of a Flood on the Mississippi.

Boston, April 4.—One of the most severe snow storms of the season, has prevailed this afternoon. Railroad trains are delayed and telegraph wires are down in all directions.

HARTFORD, April 4.—155 Iowa gave Ingersoll 49,027, and the green-back and prohibition candidates, about 1,800 each. The Senate and House are Democratic.

The vote on Monday, with only the town of Salem to hear from, which was last year, 77 Republicans to 72 Democrats, gives Ingersoll 3,657 majority. The Senate stands 16 Democrats to 3 Republicans, a Democratic gain of 1. The lower House, including two towns electing one representative each, results from which are estimated, stands, 85 Republicans, 159 Democrats and 2 Independents. Last year it stood 107 Republicans, 137 Democrats, 1 Independent, a Democratic gain of 22. The Democratic majority on joint ballot is 87.

ATOHISON, Kan., April 4.—The election here, to day, for city officers, resulted in the election of the Republican ticket, and three out of four council men. Last year the democrats elected their entire ticket except mayor.

CHICAGO, April 4.—The elections, to day, passed off without any remarkable disturbance. None of the votes have yet been counted, but it is thought the republicans have elected officers in the south and west towns, and the north will be close.

MEMPHIS, April 4.—It is now generally believed that a flood is inevitable, as the water is within nine inches of the highest water known, and the river has not fallen any at Cairo or St. Louis yet. The bottom opposite this city is flooded back to Madison, and trains on the Little Rock road are discontinued. It is feared a large amount of stock have been lost. Planting is greatly delayed and cotton planters will suffer heavily.

BLOOMINGTON, April 4.—The township election passed off in this city to day, and was one of the most exciting that has been held for many years. The full Republican ticket was elected, there being no party opposition. J. B. Holcomb was elected collector, Adam Guthrie, assessor. A very heavy vote was polled.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The Senate in executive session rejected the nomination of Richard H. Dana, Jr., to be Minister to England. $300,000 in silver coin was received at the Treasury department this morning from San Francisco—$200,000 in dimes, and $100,000 in quarters. An additional $100,000 in quarters is expected to-morrow. The additional surplus needed will be ordered at once from San Francisco.

CARLINVILLE, Ill., April 4.—Yesterday morning, Thomas Tracy, who lives about six miles east of this place, shot his wife through the head because she had packed up her things preparatory to leaving him, then struck his six year old daughter with the butt of his gun, and completed the tragedy by cutting his own throat with a butcher knife, nearly severing his head from his body. The horrible tragedy was not discovered for some two hours after, when word was brought to the city. Medical aid, accompanied by the coroner, at once repaired to the spot. The woman and child were not instantly killed, but can live only a few hours. Portraits of the head and skull of the woman were blown about the room and the rude country house presented a most sickening sight. This is the second triple murder in the county in less than a year.

The managing doctor of a lunatic asylum at Alexandria, Italy, has discovered a new way to treat diseased minds. It consists on scientific principles, of simply placing the patient in rooms lit through blue or violet colored window panes. An alienated subject put to bed by this doctor in a room lighted with the violet colored panes, got up next morning and intelligently requested to be sent home, as he felt all right. He was discharged, and thereafter became as happy and as well as he ever was previous to his alienation. A great many dogmas and secrets remain to be found out in this world.

THE Princess Beatrice is said to possess an "awful temper," which makes her exceedingly "sociable" at times, especially when there are books and plates lying around loose. For this reason young Americans should all feel resigned to the search that is now being made by her royal mamma for a son-in-law. Beatrice needs companionship. Some one to exercise her muscles on. Some one to play target, while she improvises a rifle-match with stove-hits for bullets and piano stools for wadding. Her health absolutely demands some such a change as this to keep up her strength and while away the growing tedium of court life.

A scientific man who takes great interest in the subject of drainage writes as follows:

"Two-thirds of the miasmatic troubles in New York city proceed from the kitchen sinks of the houses. The sink drains get clogged with grease, and foul odors arise to the upper stories of the houses, and little pale children inhale them all night, until they have scarcely strength enough in the morning to put on their shoes and stockings. For the want of a better remedy, a common brick placed over the aperture will obviate the trouble, and it should be the duty of every sensible head of a family to see that it is regularly placed there at night."

A young minister, somewhat distinguished for self-possession, having failed disastrously before a crowded audience, was thus addressed by an aged brother:

"If you had gone into that pulpit, feeling as you now do on coming out of that pulpit, you would have felt, on coming out of that pulpit, as you did when you went up into that pulpit."

Monthly Meeting.—The regular monthly meeting of the Decatur Building and Benefit Association, took place last evening at the County Treasurer's office. The following loans were made at the premiums indicated: $500 at 30 per cent; $700 at 31 per cent, $100 at 32 per cent. The premiums aggregated $390.

The following resolution was offered, which, under the rules of the association, was laid over to the next meeting:

Resolved, That the yearly expenses be limited to $500.
